THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1870. VOLUME III---NUMBER 35

Evening Edition

Atlanta, Georgia, August 1, 1870.

Shame Where is Thy Blush?

As staid and decent a paper as the Boston Post sees nothing blameworthy in its recent elaborate and overdrawn description of the marriage fete of B. F. Butler's daughter. This young woman, we think, was fairly entitled, from the fact of her sex, if for nothing more, to treatment less inhuman than she received. Because she was the daughter of her father furnishes no excuse for these conductors of a public press for having placed her as it were, in a sort of social pillory, and given her a reminiscence in her history which should crimson her cheek as long as her blood shall be warm in her veins. Why, think of it. What in the name of decency, what can the people be coming to, when an editor will furtively peep into a bride's trunks and bureaus, and take an inventory of her stockings and night gowns and ——, well here we break down and can't follow the Post another step. But, to such Johnny raws as we are down South, such meddling with the most sacred confidences of social life is shocking and monstrous. We will venture right now to assert, that the inventory of Miss Butler's wardrobe as it stands in blushless array in the Boston Post could not be read aloud to a decent family of ladies in the South, not even by a brother, without rebuke. But let us not boast too much. We fear the infection of a lascivious and prurient vanity has been carpet-bagged into this unhappy section, and with all our other losses we are in danger of seeing that "gentle loyalty to rank and sex" that once distinguished our chivalry, give way to an immodest self-obtrusion and disregard from interested motives of that senibility and regard for decorum that has heretofore so distinguished the better classes of our community.

The Advanced Civilization of Our Masters.

In repeated instances we have noticed the most enthusiastic accounts in Northern papers, of ex-bruiser Morrisey's great gambling den at Saratoga. These descriptions of the gorgeous seductions that a very bad man has been spreading to the gaze of all men for the purpose of entrapping and despoiling his victims, have been given in papers North, esteemed generally, as respectable and influential. As yet, no denunciations of this quasi-partnership in crime, on the part of the press, have met our eye. But to us, down here, blighted and shriveled as our souls and moral sense have been by the curse of slavery, and the far bitterer curse of being born Southerners, this complacent and tender way of dandling a shocking and deadly sin, seems to be simply monstrous. In our simplicity, we ask ourselves, how can society itself escape disintegration and utter overthrow, when the deadliest vices known to human experience are winked at, if not absolutly commended. What are all these glowing pictures of Morrissey's hell flaunted in men's faces for? To speak of these monstrous defiances of all that is decent or moral in a community, in the manner we are now commenting upon, argues a state of public morals which indicate an appreciation and readiness on the part of society to relish such things, that is ominous indeed. From the sample of the eulogies of Morrissey's disciples, which we subjoin, it can be readily seen that so far from these emmissaries of sin and corruption of the youth of the country, evincing any apprehension or fear at the consequences of their conduct, they really glory in their shame.

Hear one of these decoy ducks how he quacks:

> "Behold! his breakfasts shine with reputation,
> His dinners are the wonder of the nation!
> With these he treats both commoners and quality,
> Who praise, where'er they go, his hospitality."

In it are to be found all the European games, rouge de noir, red and black, under and over seven, combination lottery, such as used to be played at the celebrated Crockford's in London, with the addition of the American games of faro and roulette.

By the untiring energy, industry and skill of Mr. Morrissey racing to-day at Saratoga is more popular and better patronized than at any other point in America. The turf and Saratoga owe him lasting obligations which they will never be able to repay. We have the assurance of some friends who have visited the continent that the new Club house at Saratoga far surpasses anything of the kind in Europe. Mr. Morrissey seems determined not only to make Saratoga the regal racing point, but the Baden Baden of America, and himself the King Benazet. More than five thousand ladies have visited this princely club house, admiring its beauties and tasteful finish, and it would not surprise us before the lapse of two years to see the "fair ones" seated around the green cloth handling "the painted tablets, dealt and dealt again."

The Chicago Republican on Prolongation.

We clip the following from the Chicago Republican, the leading organ of the administration party in the great Northwest. The last two sentences ought to make Captain Blodgett and his "rebel squad" feel quite small, were it possible for them to take cognizance of other arguments, save those that are lubricated with the "grease and waste" of the State Road. The Republican is mistaken in saying that opposition to an election of Assemblymen, this fall, has nearly if not quite ceased. Bullock, Blodgett & Co., are as active as ever in their intrigues with the members of the Legislature to get them to vote for "prolongation:"

AFFAIRS IN GEORGIA.

Judging by the tone of our Georgia exchanges, a long-vexed question in that State, that for months has kept it agitated in every nook and corner, and created in an immense amount of exasperation and recrimination, has ceased to be longer a practical issue. It is generally conceded that the provisions of the law restoring Georgia to full affiliation in the Union, will have the effect of silencing all the arguments which have been made in favor of a prolongation of the terms of State officers until 1872. The plea on which this extension of term was principally founded, was, that certain acts of Congress had suspended the operation of the State proper, since the election of 1868, creating a sort of interregnum in constitutional government; and that the military authority of the United States substituted local civil ascendency, until the national Senators and Representatives should be admitted to seats in Congress.

These, with all the other reasons, produced in defense of prolonging the tenure of State office, have been made of no effect by that clause of the Georgia-restoration enactment, which is in the following words: "Nothing in this or any other act of Congress shall be construed to affect the term to which any officer has been appointed, or any member of the General Assembly elected as prescribed by the Constitution of the State of Georgia." It is true, this provision does not command that elections shall be held in the State next November, except by implication. To have made a direct instruction of that sort, when the express stipulations and injunctions of the constitution are to that effect, would have been to charge the authorities in power with an intention to violate the organic law which they had sworn to uphold. All that Congress did in the premises, was to declare that the constitution remained intact, unimpaired, undisturbed, either by the then or any other act of its co-ordinate branches. Consequently, that constitution, in all that specifies times, modes and extent of elections, must be looked to as the sole guide of action. That instrument provides that "the election of Governor, members of Congress and of the General Assembly, after the year 1868, shall commence on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1870," bringing the election on the 8th day of November, 1870; that the members of the Senate "elected at the first election from the twenty-two Senatorial districts, numbered in the constitution with odd numbers, shall only hold their office for two years;" and that "members of the General Assembly shall begin on Tuesday after the first Monday in November every second year, except at the first election."

Said constitution being now the supreme rule of action regarding local elections, in consideration of the fact that Congress has left that instrument to operate in all its provisions, we perceive no just ground on which to base an argument in favor of prolonging the tenure of any office beyond the limitation fixed for it in the organic law. No longer is there room to set up a pretense that because the State is technically out of the Union until such time as her Senators and Representatives shall have been admitted to seats in Congress, civil authority is too inchoate and indeterminate to be considered the paramount guide of State action. Indeed, since the passage of the bill to re-admit Georgia to full communion in the Union, there can, in our opinion, be no honest difference of conviction on the question of the right of the people of that State to hold an election for Assemblymen next fall; and we are glad to say opposition to that right has nearly if not quite ceased. One more cause of exasperation has thus been removed.

A Card—Ex-Mayor Williams on the Capitol Question.

Editors Constitution: DEAR SIR—In your editorial headed "The Capitol Question" in your Saturday evening's edition, prefacing the publication of a communication from the City Council, dated July 28, 1870, addressed to the Constitutional Convention, you say: "It is true that there is no hesitation on the part of the City Council to perform all she agreed to do." As I was presiding in the Council of 1868 when the communication referred to was adopted, you will allow me to say that I believe it to be equally true that the contract with Mr. Kimball, and many other provisions which fully complied with her profer to the Convention, and that would have been no trouble or difference, whatever, between the Legislature and City Council, but all would have been satisfied to-day, and the State and city, now largely in debt, would not be called on to pay a very extravagant price for a capitol when either can illy afford it, if Gov. Bullock had referred Mr. Kimball to the City Council instead of paying him a large amount of the State's money, without the knowledge or consent of the City Council, for fixtures etc., in his building which he agreed to put there under his rental contract with the City Council.

We now ask a fair examination before the present Legislative committees and City Council. Let the members of the City Council of 1868 be present and testify, especially Messrs. Richard Peters, E. W[illegible] land, and E. E. Rawson, the Committee on the Capitol Building, at the time the contract was made, and all others interested, and let all have a fair showing before the committees, and let justice be done.

Feeling confident that the present committees and City Council will have a full examination, giving all interested an opportunity to justify, I deem it unnecessary to say more at present, as I think your comments on the City Council's communication to the Convention will be fully answered.

JAMES E. WILLIAMS.

"Public Meeting at Fairburn."

Editors Constitution: The citizens of Fairburn and vicinity met according to previous announcement, in the town of Fairburn on the 23d ultimo, and organized by calling H. A. McLavin to the chair, and requesting S. G. Johnson to act as Secretary. Joseph Brantly, in a brief manner, explained the object of the meeting. Professor E. C. Mobley was called upon to address the meeting, which he did in his eloquent and happy style. Upon motion, the following committee was appointed to report matter for the action of the meeting: E. C. Mobley, I. W. Carter, W. B. Swann, S. G. Johnson, Joseph Brantly and W. H. Andrews. After a short absence of the committee they returned, and submitted the following report, which was received and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The situation, inconvenience and general dissatisfaction of the people of Campbell county imperatively demand a change of our county site, and the removal thereof to some point on the Atlanta and West Point Railroad; and, whereas, the people of said county have been for twenty years and are still clamorous for said removal and change, and are determined to clamor for it until the great and paralysing evil and embarrassment of our situation shall be remedied. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the undersigned committee, recommend that a committee of three be selected by this meeting to introduce said matter to the present Legislature, and that said committee be instructed and required to use all honorable means to effect the passage of a bill remedying our evils, quieting our dissatisfaction, and settling this vexed question that has so long agitated our people, paralyzed their enterprise and improvements, and shed a fell influence over all their efforts for internal improvements, and everything else tending to a higher scale of refinement and civilization.

Resolved 2. That an executive committee be appointed by this meeting to manage and direct this matter and make all preparations necessary to consummate this undertaking.

Resolved 3. That we do most earnestly request the full co-operation of the citizens of the west side of the river in a plan that will gratify the wish and give full satisfaction to our whole people; and that the citizens of the west side of the river be notified and requested to meet us at Campbellton, on the first Tuesday in August, to effect and arrange said plan of co-operation.

The following-named gentlemen are appointed as an executive committee: W. H. Andrews, O. A. Cantrell, William Jennings, E. Humphries, W. J. James, I. W. Carter, T. T. Bohanan and D. Burran. A committee of three, consisting of E. C. Mobley, Joseph Brantly and S. G. Johnson, were appointed to see our Senator and Representative and get them to lay the matter before the Legislature as soon as practicable.

On motion it was ordered that the proceedings of this meeting be published in THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION. The meeting then adjourned amid enthusiasm and good feeling; all feel hopeful of the success of the enterprise.

S. G. JOHNSON, Secretary.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The Assistant Treasurer of New York has been instructed to sell one million of gold on each Wednesday during the month of August, and to purchase one million of bonds on each alternate Thursday during the month, commencing August 4th, and two millions on each alternate Thursday, commencing August 11th. The sales of gold during this month will thus amount to five millions, and the amount of bonds purchased will be six millions.

NEW YORK, July 31.—A cable dispatch to the Herald says fighting has commenced in Baden.

Four Prussian army corps are on the Rhine.

Families are leaving Baden for Switzerland.

A Prussian banker has been arrested in Paris. Three spies have been arrested by the police.

Prince Napoleon leaves for the Baltic in a few days.

Austria gives her sanction to Italian possession of Rome.

The Lord Mayor of London gave a grand ball last night, at which Mr. Cardwell, War Secretary, replied to a toast to the army, asking the reserve force and militia to be included in the toast. He referred to improvements made in modern warfare, and speculated on their effect.

Gladstone responded to the toast in honor of the minister. He alluded to the unusual circumstances under which they met, and proceeded to review the leading measures introduced in the session of Parliament now drawing to a close. The Irish Land bill was characterized as a peace measure, and the Education bill as a blessing, England giving as it did free instructions to all. Alluding to the war, the Premier regretted his inability to confine his retrospect to the topic of peace. He asked, in the name of wounded humanity and grieving civilization and religion, could anything be more deplorable than the sight of a nation, of the highest civilization, with institutions nearly perfect, famous in everything in the department of history, and the admiration of the world, rushing into conflict and mutual slaughters, the issue was difficult to state or appreciate, and no intelligent mind could suppress its horror at the spectacle

Gladstone then spoke of England's position in war, as follows: 1st. The idea of England is neutral; 2d idea is preparation for the worst; and her neutrality is not indifference, nor is it a selfish solution, it is dictated by the necessity of mitigating the evils of war, of confining them within the smallest possible circle, and of retaining power to intervene at the proper moment. Nothing will be done to forfeit the friendship of either party, and nothing will be admitted to retain their confidence. So we may avail ourselves of the first opportunity for renewing our efforts at mediation in a quarrel, the most mournful ever witnessed by mankind.

MOBILE, July 31.—On the eastern division from Mobile to Pascagoula, of the New Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga road, the last rail was laid last night, and will be open for traffic this week.

A terrific storm passed over this city last night. Damage about $200,000. No lives lost so far as known.

FOREIGN.

PARIS, July 31.—The French war office has received no advices of any engagement or movement of the troops in force up to yesterday afternoon. The sanitary condition of the army is excellent. It is reported that the skirmish of the 26th gave some idea of the comparative merits of the needle gun, though, owing to the shortness of the affair, the test was not complete. The Prussians commenced fire at the distance of 800 metres, and their fire fell short by 100 metres. The French fired almost simultaneously, and some Prussians were killed.

MONDAY'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—The Prussians have mined the Rhine banks.

Prince Napoleon departs shortly for the Baltic.

The French remain in Rome until September.

It is reported that England intends to occupy Antwerp.

Rumors of fighting near Forback.

A special to the Herald says the French lost twenty, and the Prussians eight at Saarbruck.

Bismark has issued a circular to diplomats at neutral courts, wherein, among other things, he says Napoleon has constantly contempted Prussia.

Prussia remained honest, but for the sake of peace it was thought better to encourage Napoleon in his delusion and a note implying his approval was not returned until it was counted on to revolutionize France, and to extinguish the scheme. Hence the long delay and silence. Austria is organizing a formidable army.

Archduke Albrecht, whose sympathy with France is notorious, is in supreme command.

The Hungarian chambers have also voted extraordinary credits.

Sweden, in a[illegible]ing, will co-operate with Denmark.

Had France allowed Prussian schemes, Sweden and Denmark would not have been free to-day.

Duke Codore is now in Stockholm on a special mission for France.

The French Bank [illegible] at a discount of five per cent.

The French government now requires passports from all persons entering or leaving France.

CAIRO, August 1.—Steamer Dan Abell was burned. Loss $4000.

FOREIGN.

PESTH, August 1.—The Hungarian Diet voted five millions and authorized the mobilization next years contingent.

BERLIN, August 1.—The King went to the front last evening. The queen left him at the cars. The people were enthusiastic.

Fifteen loaded ships are moored on the Elbe below Hamburg ready to be sunk upon the approach of a French fleet.

LONDON, August 1.—It is certain that England will take action to defend Belgium.

The Times says that Gladstone's speech at the Mayor's dinner proves that he recognizes the war, and is ready to meet it.

The French squadron is still cruizing off Scotland.

PARIS, August 1.—The Mediterranean fleet has arrived at Brest, and will go north to join the Baltic fleet.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

MONDAY, August 1, 1870.

The Senate was called to order by the President.

Prayer by Wesley Prettyman.

Mr. Burns, according to previous notice, moved to reconsider the action in adopting the rebellious prolongation resolutions, and sustained the motion in a masterly effort.

Mr. Higbee spoke in reference to a modification of the resolutions adopted and animadverted upon the publication of "rolls of infamy."

Mr. Brock based his argument in favor of the prolongation resolutions on the reconstruction acts of 1867 and the idea that Georgia was a provisional State.

The time of Mr. Brock was, on motion extended.

Mr. Wellborn asked Mr. Brock if he was not construeing the Reconstruction Acts to prolong the term of his service as a senator, and did not the act of July 15th, 1870, forbid any such construction?

Mr. Brock referred to the act striking out the proviso to bring on an election in 1870, as supporting his views.

A message was received from the House announcing the passage of a resolution to refer the report of the Investigating Committee on the Penitentiary to a joint committee of five from the Senate and seven from the House.

Mr. Brock charged the Democratic witnesses in the Beck case with testifying falsely; the Democratic party with violating the constitution and being responsible for $9 per diem. It was a labored effort to bolster up the Radical party.

(Speaker McWhorter, Tweedy and E. F. Blodgett were on the floor and in the lobby during a part of the session.)

Bradley asked the speaker if provisional governments had but one election?

Mr. Brock said if the gentleman would point him to the law he would like to see it.

Bradley replied, "Utah, New Mexico, Dacotah!"

Mr. Brock consumed about an hour and a half in discussing every subject, except the reconsideration and infant baptism.

Bradley, (colored) denounced the tactics pursued by the prolongationists in taking up all the time and not allowing those favoring reconsideration to give their arguments. Admitting that the General Assembly was provisional in its character, it did not affect the term for which the members were elected. The term for which Governor Bullock was elected is four years. The act of July 15, 1870 declares that that term shall not be affected—lengthened or shortened—by any act of Congress. Provisional Governments have elections and terms. Bradley cited Utah and New Mexico as instances. He also cited the bill for the enforcement of the 15th amendment to prove that under it all who attempted to hinder or prevent any one from voting at any election of the people, would be guilty of a crime.

Mr. Colman made a motion to extend the time of the session to two o'clock, which the President declared carried.

Mr. Sherman asked Bradley if "no election was held would he hold his seat at the next session."

Bradley said he would refer the gentleman to the section of the constitution that members of the General Assembly "hold until their successors are elected and qualified." But the law did not contemplate the General Assembly passing an act to prevent an election in order to hold over.

Mr. Colman moved to table motion to reconsider, which was carried by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Bowers, Campbell, Colman, Corbitt, Crayton, Harris, Henderson, Henry, Higbee, Hungerford, Merrell, Sherman, Speer, Stringer, Wallace, Welch—16.

Nays—Messrs. Bradley, Burns, Candler, Fain, Hinton, Jourdan, Dunning, Mathews, Nesbitt, Nunnally, Smith (7th), Wellborn, Wooten—13.

Mr. Wellborn protested against Mr. Henry being allowed to vote, because he had not filled his oath, but the protest was over-ruled.

Communication signed "Rufus B. Bullock," relative to outstanding debts of the penitentiary. Referred to Penitentiary Committee.

Announcement was made that several Senators had paired off on the vote to table motion to reconsider.

Mr. Hinton offered a resolution, reciting that whereas, Senator W. W. Merrell was charged with giving a certificate to his son-in-law, J. C. C. Carlton, of his appointment as Clerk of the Judiciary Committee when he had never been appointed, and the Judiciary had never met, and that Mr. Carlton, on that certificate, had drawn $200; with a resolution to expel Mr. Merrell. Mr. Hinton moved to refer to a special committee of five.

Mr. Merrell rose to a personal explanation, stating that according to his understanding, that a majority of the committee agreed to the appointment, and that he gave a certificate simply certifying that Mr. Carlton was entitled to his per diem pay as a member of the committee.

Mr. Speer offered an amendment censuring Mr. Merrell for giving the certificate, and requiring Mr. J. C. C. Carlton to return the $200 illegally obtained from the Treasury.

Both referred to a special committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Hinton, Bowers, Speer, Mathews and Harris.

Mr. Burns offered a resolution to request the Committee on Printing to inquire into all the facts concerning State printing; whether the State Printer has resigned, and who is exercising the duties of that office, and whether under bond or not.

Mr. Harris moved to lay the resolution on the table, which motion at one time was declared passed, but on a subsequent putting of the vote was declared lost.

Mr. Hungerford offered an amendment, directing the Printing Committee to inquire of the Governor whether the State Printer has resigned.

The resolution of Mr. Burns was adopted and referred to the Printing Committee.

Several House bills were read first time, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, August 1, 1870.

Speaker McWhorter called the House to order at the usual hour.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Crawford.

The journal of Friday's proceedings was read.

Mr. Gray offered a resolution that this House proceed at 12 o'clock, M, to elect a Speaker, pro tem., and a messenger, which motion did not prevail.

Mr. Hall, Chairman of the Finance Committee, recommended the passage of the following bills:

A bill to authorize the Mayor and Council of Rome to subscribe not more than $100,000 to the Memphis Branch Railroad.

Also, a bill to authorize the Intendent and Wardens of Athens to extend the Georgia Railroad to Rabun Gap.

Also, a bill to prevent the sale of agricultural implements after night, etc.

The committee reported adversely on the bill to make an appropriation for levelling breastworks near Savannah.

Mr. O'Neal, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported favorably on the bill to change the time of holding Houston Superior Court, which bill was read the third time and passed.

On motion of Simms (colored) the use of this Hall was tendered to Mr. F. J. Quarles to-night, to deliver a lecture.

Messrs. Phillips, Duncan, O'Neal, of Lowndes, Beard, Evans, Costin and Ford, were appointed on the joint committee to whom was referred the report of the committee appointed to investigate the Penitentiary.

The following bills were read the first time:

Mr. Anderson—A bill to authorize the Mayor and Council of Marietta to levy a special tax.

Porter (colored)—A bill to regulate the fees of clerks of the Superior Courts and District Courts, etc.

Also—A bill to establish District Courts in each Senatorial district, etc.

Mr. Hillyer—A resolution authorizing the Governor to draw his warrant in favor of the Public Printer for $5,000.

Mr. Perkins—A bill to authorize the Ordinary, Commissioners and Clerk to draw Juries for Cherokee county.

Mr. Phillips—A bill to regulate labor of mechanics, etc.

Also, a bill to reduce the per diem of members of the Legislature to $8 in gold, or equivalent in specie.

Mr. Morgan—A bill to allow Halstead Smith, a minor, to qualify as executor.

Mr. Holcombe—A bill to incorporate the Atlanta and Savannah Air-Line Railroad Company.

Also, a bill to repeal so much of sections 1303 and 1306 of the Code as requires voters to swear to the payment of taxes.

Also, a bill for the securing and collecting of debts, etc.

Also, a bill to amend the acts incorporating the city of Atlanta, so as to give the Mayor jurisdiction similar to Justices in town districts.

Mr. Ballanger—A bill to amend the act incorporating the Cherokee Wesleyan Institute.

Also, a bill to change the lines between Floyd and Gordon counties.

Also, a bill to amend the act incorporating the village of Cave Springs.

Mr. Haren—A bill to prevent the distillation of corn in Fannin county.

Mr. Ellis—A bill to prevent the killing of deer at certain seasons.

THE WORLD'S WONDER.

DR. ABBETT'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC

—OR—

LIVER MEDICINE

A SAFE and certain cure for all kinds of Liver Complaints, and all diseases and indispositions that originate from a diseased state or inactivity of the Liver, such as

Chronic and Acute Inflammation of the Liver,
Dyspepsia, Sick Headache,
Sourness of the Stomach,
Loss of Appetite,
Lowliness of Spirits, Colic,
Costiveness, Fever, Ague,
Bilious Fever, Dropsy and Jaundice.

These Medicines are purely Vegetable, and perfectly harmless; but their efficacy is so permanently certain in all the Southern and Western States to require any further recommendations.—(The wise will not fail to give them a fair trial—this is all that is asked.)

LAGRANGE, GA., DEC. 3, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga.: Gentlemen—Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to say that I know of no combinations or preparation equal to it in the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and would cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.

I am, very respectfully,
T. S. BRADFIELD, Druggist.

WEST POINT, GA., OCT. 15, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER: Gentlemen—I can honestly and confidently recommend L. E. Abbett's Liver or Dyspeptic Medicine, as prepared by you, to the favorable notice of the suffering public. Having used this Medicine in my family for twenty years, I can highly recommend it for removing pains or flatulency from the stomach, caused by indigestion. It also has a happy effect in removing constipation of the bowels. I believe it to be the best universal remedy the world has yet discovered for the above named diseases. With my best wishes to you in introducing this valuable Medicine to the public, I remain,
Yours, truly, A. K. KENDRICK.

LIPPMAN'S

GREAT

GERMAN BITTERS,

TONIC, INVIGORANT,

—AND—

PALATABLE STIMULANT.

TRADE MARK

BY far the best and purest preparation in the world for Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint; a sure preventive for Fever and Ague, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers.

LIPMANN'S

Great German Bitters,

Are a Medicinal Cordial, possessing powerful alterative, anti-bilious and invigorating properties, that can be taken by old or young, male or female, with beneficial results.

FOR FEMALES,

LIPPMAN'S BITTERS are invaluable. They build up the system, bring health and bloom to the cheek of the invalids. As a remedy for nervous wakefulness, to which females are especially subject, they are fast superseding all other stimulants.

LIPPMAN'S

Great German Bitters,

Are a Cordial for the aged, and a sure protection against malarious diseases. Persons living in damp, malarious climates will find these Bitters a valuable remedy; a small dose taken occasionally, will prevent many day's, and perhaps week's of sickness.

No license at all necessary to sell these Bitters.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 16, 1870.

MESSRS. JACOB LIPPMAN & BRO., Savannah, Ga.:

GENTS: I have with me your esteemed letter of the 12th instant, containing some documents relative to your "German Bitters." After a careful examination I must admit that your Bitters is really what you represent it to be, an old German recipe of Dr. Mischerlich, of Berlin, Prussia. It will, no doubt, be effective for Dyspepsia, general debility and nervous disorders. It is also a good preventive of Chills and Fevers. I find it to be a very delightful and pleasant stomachic.

I remain, yours truly,
[Signed] AUG. P. WETTER.

KIRKLAND MILLS, GA., March 22, 1870.

MESSRS. JACOB LIPPMAN & BRO., Druggists, Savannah, Ga.:

GENTLEMEN: I have introduced your Great German Bitters here, to my customers and friends, and I find a better sale for them than any I have ever kept before. Those who have tried them approve of them very highly, and I do not hesitate in saying that they are superior to any of the kind ever offered in this market.

Yours, respectfully,
[Signed] W. KIRKLAND.

Democratic Meeting.

A meeting of the Democratic party of Fulton county will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday, the 2d day of August, to appoint delegates to the State Democratic Convention, which assembles in Atlanta on the 17th day of August.

MANY DEMOCRATS.

Atlanta, July 28, 1870. tf

Democrats of Fulton County, Attention!

Let none forget that there will be a meeting of the Democrats of Fulton county on Tuesday, the 2d day of August, to appoint delegates to the State Democratic Convention that meets in this city on the 17th day of the same month. See call signed "Many Democrats."

County Meeting.

Remember the call for a meeting of the Democrats of Fulton county at the City Hall on Tuesday, August 2d. The hour of meeting is 12, M.

☞ The thermometer is by no means an accurate index of the oppressiveness of the weather. Some days are tolerable at 93, some intolerable at ten degrees lower. The difference is due to the relative humidity in the atmosphere. Let no man who is oppressed with heat at 85 degrees, suppose that he must necessarily give up the ghost if the mercury rises to 95 or even 100.

Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Liberty.

Let the people in every county in the State assemble in primary meetings, to consult in regard to the election, which they are entitled to hold this fall under the constitution of Georgia and the act of Congress of July 15th, 1870, and to send delegates to the conventions to be held in Atlanta on the 16th and 17th of August next. Let there be wisdom in council, firmness and discretion in action.

Sunstroke.

The mortality from sunstroke has been unprecedented in New York for some time past. Thirty-five deaths occurred in a single day. Deaths traceable to heat only represent a fractional part of the injury to health and life which the hot weather has occasioned. If the heated term continues much longer, it must breed a serious epidemic of some kind.

Extending across the continent, the heated zone seems to be about eight hundred miles in width.

Senator Merrell and the Family.

Here we subjoin something that is enough to make the blood tingle in the veins of a cast-iron man.

Here it is; read it, ye live men in Georgia, all ye who are not willing to take the highway, and who really believe that a man should get his bread by the sweat of his brow:

ATLANTA, GA., July 28, 1870.

I certify that J. C. C. Carlton is clerk of the committee on the judiciary of the Senate, and that his services were required and actually performed, beginning on the 11th instant, and is therefore entitled to the same per diem pay as a member.

(Signed) W. W. MERRELL,
Chairman.

July the 28th, 1870, two hundred dollars were paid by the Treasurer and receipted for by Carlton. Now, for the points, reader. First. The Parliamentary usage, we believe, has uniformly been to appoint these clerks of committees by election in committee. If this rule is varied we believe it is only a concession of courtesy on the part of the committee, allowing the chairman to make the appointment. But, we believe, the rule is as we state it. Now, we are informed that no appointment has ever been made, and we know of two deserving young friends, who are candidates for this clerkship, that will be astonished when they receive this number of THE CONSTITUTION. But worse, far worse than this. We are informed that this committee has never yet been convoked, never met, never performed as a committee on an act, and consequently could never have called Mr. Carlton's services into requisition. We do so believe, that Mr. Carlton has never performed one hour's service for this two hundred dollars, which his father-in-law has certified for and abetted his abstracting from our much abused Treasury. How long, O Lord, how long? Will never again shame come back to the hearts of our people and public opinion have the weight of a feather? Comment is useless. Words fail us, and we cry in our desperation at the intolerable nuisance of Radicalism, "Who shall deliver us from the body of this death!"

Radical Trickery.

The silly attempt now being made by the Republican party to utilize the sympathy of the German population with their Fatherland in the present war between Prussia and France, is as ridiculous as it is impracticable. The Germans see through it and despise it. The attempt thus to utilize them for party purposes, is made upon the presumption of their ignorance of the international policy of their adopted country.

From the foundation of our government, the policy of the United States, in regard to their alliances with foreign nations, has been well defined and rigidly adhered to. "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none" have wrought the present independence of this country of court intrigues, saved it from being injuriously affected by revolutionary convulsions in other countries, and preserved in a great measure the republican simplicity of our diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations.

To this policy was chiefly due the respect with which the United States, (when they were ranked as a weak power among the nations,) were always treated by the crowned heads of Europe.

So deeply have the people, whether natives or of foreign birth, become wedded to this policy, that should any administration entangle the Federal Government in alliance with foreign nations, or improperly meddle in their affairs, either in peace or war, it would at once provoke an outburst of popular indignation.

Americans are a free people, out-spoken whenever and wherever their feelings are enlisted. No right-minded man objects to outbursts of popular sympathy, even when that sympathy is in opposition to his own predilections, preferences, or prejudices. Especially is this the case when our foreign-born population give indications of interest in the struggles of those they left behind in the land of their nativity. The utterances of the most zealous and indiscreet Fenian, the most enthusiastic Frenchman, or the most earnest German, in regard to movements of their former countrymen, or the overthrow of those they may deem their oppressors, are always listened to with a feeling rather of pleasure than of impatience.

Such utterances are the evidences of the priceless privileges which we as Americans enjoy. The masses of the people, whether native or foreign born, do not intend to permit their liberties to be jeopardized by entangling alliances of the Federal Government with foreign nations. Nor do they intend that political tricksters shall trade upon their sympathies. So, those of the Radical party that are now bidding for the German vote by lauding Bismarck's policy and hypocritically denouncing Napoleon, would do well to cease their efforts to make large drafts upon German credulity, which has no existence save in the imagination of political tricksters.

How is this, Northern Democrats?

An act of Congress of July 15th, 1870, admitting Georgia for the second time into the Union, contains the following language. We quote its very words:

"That neither this, nor any other act of Congress shall be so construed as to deny to the people of Georgia their right to hold an election according to the constitution thereof; nor to affect the term of any officer appointed, nor any member of the Legislature elected under said constitution."

In the face of the above, the Senate of Georgia, on yesterday, passed the following resolutions by a vote of 21 to 14.

WHEREAS, The constitutional term of the several officers of the State, including that of this General Assembly, are necessarily dependent upon the time when under the several acts of Congress the constitution goes into operation, as the paramount law, freed from military influences; and

Whereas, The acts of Congress of July 15th, 1870, does not fix said time and the same cannot now be definitely settled until Congress shall decide by the actual admission of our Senators and Representatives; and

Whereas, It is unwise further to complicate affairs by the election of new officers while the period when the State Government as such under the constitution begins its existence is uncertain;

Therefore resolved, That the General Assembly so shape legislation as that no election shall be held for the various officers provided for by the constitution, until Congress, by the admission of our Senators and Representatives, or in some other way, shall definitely determine whether the constitution of this State is held to go into operation as the paramount law in 1868 or in 1870.

The constitution of Georgia explicitly provides for an election of members of the lower House of the General Assembly and of Senators from those districts having odd numbers on Tuesday after the first Monday (it being the 8th) of November, 1870. Leading Republican journals in the North, in the last few days, have been publishing arguments against the claim set up by Radicals in the Georgia Legislature to prolong their term of service and thus prevent an election this fall.

The journals referred to complacently inform us that there will be an election in Georgia at the time referred to; that the opposition to it has well-nigh ceased; this too in the face of the fact that Governor Bullock and his faction are working like beavers to induce the Radical majority in the Legislature to prolong their term of service, and have, as above stated, succeeded in inducing the Radical majority in the Senate to render themselves infamous by passing the resolutions above quoted. What does it mean? Are they throwing dust in the eyes of the masses up North to prevent them from taking cognizance of the iniquity that the Bullock-Blodgett faction are perpetrating in Georgia?

Orangemen and Ribbon Men.

On the 12th instant, there occurred a serious riot in New York, which grew out of a celebration by Orangemen of the battle of the Boyne. Several lives were lost and many Irishmen were engaged on both sides. In commenting on this deplorable occurrence, we called attention to the woeful effects of the unwise policy adopted by the conqueror towards the vanquished, in confiscating the lands of the followers of James and partitioning them among the Dutch and English followers of William. Allusion was made in terms not to be misunderstood, if carefully read, to the bad taste, not to say folly, after a lapse of one hundred and eighty years, of taunting by processions in the streets, or other public exhibitions, the descendants of the defeated party. We had nothing to say about the religious controversy which was so much mingled with the politics of Europe at the period of the revolution which cost James his crown and gained for William of Orange the throne of Great Britain.

We are living at a period now too far advanced, in the nineteenth century, to be disposed, even if prejudice inclined us in that direction, to seek to justify the wrongs inflicted upon Ireland on religious grounds. For, however angry the controversy between Roman Catholicism and Protestantism may have been one hundred and eighty years ago, the spirit of the present age, and especially the animus of the people of America, is condemnatory of the mingling of sectarian considerations in questions of State policy. Protestants and Catholics may rejoice or sorrow over the defeat of James at the Boyne, as their convictions or prejudices may determine them. But confiscating the lands of the conquered and placing over tenantry landlords of foreign birth, adventurers whose prejudices, sympathies and habits of thought are antagonistic to those of the masses of the people, is not justifiable on political considerations.

Certainly one hundred and eighty years of British experience in Ireland has demonstrated its folly. Had there been a more generous policy pursued towards Ireland after the battle of Boyne water, there would perhaps been no Ribbonmen ten years from its date, the Orange Societies would never had an existence, the fierce antagonism of the Roman Catholics and Protestants in that unfortunate island would long since have subsided, and the riot in New York would never have occurred.

In many particulars, the policy of Radicalism towards the conquered South resembles that which William of Orange inaugurated one hundred and eighty years ago in Ireland. It has not a tendency (nor was it intended by the Radical party so to operate,) to conciliate or content a generous, proud and chivalrous people by sending among them a horde of adventurers to prey upon their substance and to insult them in their misfortunes. The excuse that Ireland must be oppressed, her peasantry almost literally enslaved to heartless landlords of foreign birth, and her nobility robbed that Protestantism might survive and be perpetuated, is as specious and silly as that which is urged by Radicalism to justify its wild revels in the South since the war, its political debauchery and corruptions. We still think we were right in the article which called forth the strictures of our correspondent, whose communication, under the title of Orangemen, appeared in our evening edition on Friday last, the import of which was not fully considered until we saw it in print.

Owing to the changed state of sentiment of the civilized world, the present and past condition of the Irish people is a subject of study for the statesman. It is a subject that rises above all considerations of ecclesiastical supremacy. The policy of England towards Ireland has wrought results, which, in some sort, will be repeated whenever persistently pursued by the conqueror towards the conquered, it matters not what may be the kind of fanaticism that dictates it.

General Gordon and the Meeting Thursday Night.

In our report yesterday morning, of the Democratic meeting of the night before, General Gordon was mentioned as one of the speakers. This was a mistake. The reporter never attributed the language quoted to General Gordon. He knew that the Mr. Gordon who addressed the meeting was not the General, and not knowing his initials, mentioned him as Colonel Gordon. The printer evidently thought that the reporter had made a mistake in the title; he certainly substituted "General" Gordon in two places where the reporter had written "Colonel" Gordon. We have since learned that the speaker was Mr. Walter S. Gordon, of this city. General Gordon did not speak at all. The reporter left the meeting while General Benning was speaking, and was informed, an hour later, by another reporter, of the language used by Mr. W. S. Gordon.

These are the facts.—New Era, 29th.

We publish the above by request of the editor of the New Era.

SHE IS NOT DEAD.

Thoughts of solace to Dr. and Mrs. O'Keefe, on the death of their "Mamie."

"She is not dead, but sleepeth,"
With flowers on her breast,
In that slumber, sweet, superna],
Whose waking is eternal
In mansions of the blest

With white hands softly folded,
And sweet lips void of breath;
The blue eyes dimly clouded—
The young form whitely shrouded?
And this they say is Death!

No! she's asleep in Jesus;
The christian cannot die—
It is the birthday of the soul,
Which proudly spring from earths' control
To extacy on high.

"She is not dead but sleepeth;"
The blight of earthly things
Hath only fallen on her path—
Born of love and not of wrath,
To plume her angel wings—

While yet the lustrous dew of youth
Still lingered, bright and sweet;
While life was yet a dream of bliss,
Ere gall had touched the scarlet lip,
Ere thorns had pierced her feet.

And would our selfish love recall
The darling back again
To feel the sorrow we have felt—
To kneel in tears as we have knelt
Through life's abiding pain?

No, she sweetly sleeps in Christ
With flowers on her breast,
And coming years shall reunite
The riven chain with links of light,
In heaven's eternal rest.

DECISIONS
OF THE
SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA
Delivered at Atlanta, Friday, July 29.

[REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION, BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.]

William M. Anderson, plaintiff in error, vs. Thomas L. Taylor, defendant in error. Award from Pulaski.

BROWN, C. J.

1. When the arbitrators failed to furnish the party who objects to the award with a copy, as required by section 4183 of the revised Code, but the party appeared at the first term of the Court and filed his objections to the award, and did not show that he was taken by surprise, or lost any right by not having notice of the award, he is not injured by the failure of the arbitrators to furnish the copy, and the award will not, on that ground, be set aside.

2. An award will not be set aside for uncertainty, when it is capable of being made certain.

3. The award in this case is not so outrageous as of itself to constitute conclusive evidence of fraud or corruption. Error in judgment in the arbitrators is not a sufficient ground for setting aside an award. Nor will it be set aside on the ground that it is contrary to evidences, if there is any evidence to sustain it.

4. Arbitrations are favored by the courts, and he who attempts to set aside an award must comply strictly with the requirements of the statute, or he will not be heard.

Judgment affirmed.

Eli Warren, Lanier & Anderson, for plaintiff in error.

A. T. Burke, S. Hall, by Lochrane & Clark, for defendant.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company vs. Catharine A. Patterson. Assumpsit from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

1. The utmost good faith is required in an application for a life insurance, and any misrepresentation of facts affecting the nature or extent of the risk avoids the policy.

2. When one, as the agent of his reputed wife, represented to an insurance company that she was his wife, and effected an insurance upon his own life in her name, as her agent, for her benefit, and the truth of the case was, that the marriage was void by reason of the reputed wife having a former lawful husband living at the time of the second marriage:

Held, That the policy is not void by reason of the illegality of the last marriage, unless it further appears that the said reputed husband and wife knew, at the time the policy was effected, that at the time of their supposed marriage the lawful husband of the wife was living, and the marriage illegal, and failed to inform the company of the fact.

3. When in a life insurance policy there was an exception, that the company was not to be liable in within two years, the assured should die by his own hand:

Held, That if the assured drink to intoxication, and while in this condition by accident or mistake, take an overdose of laudanum and die therefrom, this is not a dying by his own hand in the sense of those words as used in the policy, even though the mistake or accident be in some sense occasioned by the drunkenness; but if he take the laudanum with intent to destroy his life, though it be but the intent of a drunken man, this is a dying by his own hand.

Judgment reversed.

Jackson, Lawton and Bassenger, for plaintiff in error.

T. E. Loyd, Hartridge and Chisolm, for defendant.

Abel Johnson vs. Yeomans O. Strickland. Contempt from Clinch.

McCAY, J.

When, after a trial on a possessory warrant and a judgment, the court delivered the property to the successful party on his giving the bond and security as required by section 3959 of the Code, and the case was carried afterwards to the Superior Court by certiorari and the judgment reversed, but before the reversal the party receiving the property has sold the same and cannot produce it, it is error in the court to attach him for contempt in failing to obey its order to redeliver the property.

Judgment reversed.

James L. Seward, A. P. Wright, Lochrane & Clark, for plaintiff in error.

No appearance for defendant.

Julia A. Mitchell, et al., plaintiff in error, vs. The Mayor and Council, defendants in error. Arbitration and award from Glynn.

BROWN, C. J.

In an affidavit filed to prevent the award of arbitrators, which has, by order of the court, been entered upon its minutes, from becoming the final judgment of the court in the cause, it is not sufficient to state in general terms that the award is the result of accident, mistake or fraud, or is generally illegal, the affidavit must state such facts of fraud, accident or mistake, or designate such illegality, as that the court may see that the mistake, etc., did, if the statement be true, occur, and that it was material to the issue.

The affidavit must be such as that, if the other party should not deny it, the court can intelligently pronounce that the award was the result of the fraud, accident, mistake or illegality charged, or no issue can be formed upon it, and no judgment of the court rendered setting it aside.

Judgment affirmed.

Warner, J., concurred.

McCay, J., does not dissent from these head notes, but said this judgment was wrong for special reasons.

Law, Lovell & Falligant, Nesbits & Jackson, for plaintiff in error.

Jackson, Lawton & Bassinger, B. F. Harris, for defendant.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Revenue to-day one million; for the month twenty-one and a half millions.

A member of Congress from Tennessee, already damaged by cadetship sales, is in trouble about pension frauds.

The steamer California, with 21 guns, sails for the Mediterranean to-night to catch seals in Alaska.

RALEIGH, July 30.—George Williamson, a citizen of Caswell, went to serve a writ of habeas corpus issued by the Chief Justice, in behalf of Hon. John Kerr and other citizens of Caswell, arrested by Kirk. Kirk ordered him to leave or he would have him fired on. Williamson made return to the Chief Justice in accordance with the facts, and the Chief Justice decided that the writs had not been properly served, first, because Williamson was not appointed by the Chief Justice to make such service, and second, being a citizen of Caswell he was insurgent, and, therefore, could not serve writs.

The Chief Justice re-affirms the opinion that the habeas corpus was not suspended, and ordered the Marshal of the Supreme Court to go to Caswell and serve the writs.

There is not, nor has there been any disturbance or resistance of the law in any portion of the State.

A telegram from Hillsboro, just received, says Kirk's men arrested thirty citizens of Alamance, to-day.

They hung Wm. Patton, a respectable citizen, three times, cutting him down each time to make him confess who murdered the negro outlaw. The last time it was an hour before he recovered enough to make a confession.

STAUNTON, July 30.—A monster barbecue and meeting was held here to-day, at the fair grounds, in furtherance of subscribing three hundred thousand dollars towards constructing the Valley Railroad. Fully four thousand persons were present, one-third ladies. Speeches were made by Governor Letcher, Colonel M. Harman, Major William Southerlin, Judges Sheffy and Hunter, General Echols, Honorable John T. Harris, Major Dorman and others. Letters were read from General Jubal A. Early, Commodore Maury, John W. Garratt, and General Robert E. Lee, favoring the work. The second letter from General Lee, consenting to become president of said road, was received with great enthusiasm.

LONDON, July 30.—The brig Vera Cruz has been lost off the mouth of Ellie, in consequence of the removal of beacons.

Bullion irregular.

PARIS, July 30.—Ollivier had an interview yesterday with the principal editors of Paris, during which he explained the position of the government on several questions, relative to Prussia. He gave some explanation of the secret treaty project, that Count Benedetti had previously given, relative to the measures taken by the Cabinet some time ago, and to affect a general disarmament. He said these efforts were merely intermedary to those of Earl Clarendon for a like purpose.

Count Von Bismarck replied to Earl Clarendon that King William refused, absolutely to disarm.

Ollivier said he gave the honor of his name and that of his colleagues, that no offer was made to Prussia other than that made by Earl Clarendon on the Rome question.

Ollivier said it seemed equitable and useful to the French government to evacuate Rome; equitable, because Italy kept her promises, and useful because keeping her promises unites us more closely to Italy and Austria.

The Journal Officiel denies the invasion of Luxemburg.

The French Senator, Gregar, an owner of large factories near Saarbrucks, has been expelled from Prussia.

Bonville has left Rome on furlough, and it is believed that troops now in Rome will be in Paris by the tenth of August.

The French journals assert that the Prussians have 300,000 troops at Treves, 100,000 in Black Forrest, 200,000 near Mayence, 100,000 in Schliswig, and 80,000 near Berlin. The country between Treves and Mayence is well filled with soldiers.

VIENNA, July 30.—Austria will establish a line of steamers from Triest to Southampton, to connect with the American lines.

WINDSOR, C. W., July 30.—General O'Neill was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and $10 fine; Captain John Brown to nine months' imprisonment and $5 fine; Captain Monagan to six months' imprisonment and $1 fine.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

PARIS, July 30.—The Journal Officiel, this morning, published Benedetti's explanation of the secret treaty affair. It is well known that Count Von Bismarck made France an offer, both before and after the war with Austria. The substance of this offer was that France should take Belgium as compensation for the aggrandizement of Prussia. The Emperor in all cases declined the proposition. The very moment the treaty of Prague was concluded, Bismarck has again betrayed his desire to restore equilibrium, and make proposals to combinations affecting the integrity of the States bordering on France.

During one of these conversations, Count Von Bismarck dictated to Count Benedetti his secret treaty project which has just been made public, and which Count Von Bismarck has kept ever since. This accounts for the handwriting. Benedetti gave notice of the contents of the proposed treaty to the Emperor's government at Tenie, but the proposition was promptly rejected. Benedetti adds that the King of Prussia was not favorable to Count Von Bismarck's plans.

To-day, the Emperor assumed commandership-in-chief of the army.

He was at work to-day with General Leboeuf, arranging the necessary details.

The Prince Imperial visited camps to-day, and received great enthusiasm.

The health of the army is perfect.

There has been no serious engagement yet.

Rumors to the contrary are false.

It is reported on the best authority that the mission to Vienna was a complete success.

Austria will not take umbrage at the presence of the Italians in Rome, and will remain in accord with Italy.

MADRID, July 30.—The departure from Madrid of the Duke Montpensier is contradicted.

A committee of republican deputies in Cortes yesterday, decided to support the demand for a prompt reunion of the Cortes, and to definitely establish a constitution.

Rumors that ministerial changes are contemplated are contradicted.

The permanent committee of Cortes, appointed before the adjournment of last session, will meet to-morrow to fix the time for the meeting of next session.

LONDON, July 30.—It is now thought that the Prussian army proposes to cross the Rhine from Baden, into France, near Haningu, two miles below Bale.

Much activity in German military circles to-day.

The French press, regardless of politics, praise the Emperor's address to the people.

Prices of breadstuffs and other articles in Paris, are nearly the same now as on the eve of the Austria and Prussian war.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, August 24, 1869.

Mr. Ed. W. Halbach, a former student of mine in this University, and since that time connected in various ways with the cause of Letters and of Education, is herewith warmly and earnestly recommended for the position of President of Rogersville Female College. I have no doubt that, in intelligence, acquirements and character, he will prove himself worthy of the Presidency of that well known and time-honored institution.

Democratic Meeting.

A meeting of the Democratic party of Fulton county will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday, the 2d day of August, to appoint delegates to the State Democratic Convention, which assembles in Atlanta on the 17th day of August.

MANY DEMOCRATS.

Atlanta, July 28, 1870. tf

Democrats of Fulton County, Attention!

Let none forget that there will be a meeting of the Democrats of Fulton county on Tuesday, the 2d day of August, to appoint delegates to the State Democratic Convention that meets in this city on the 17th day of the same month. See call signed "Many Democrats."

County Meeting.

Remember the call for a meeting of the Democrats of Fulton county at the City Hall on Tuesday, August 2d. The hour of meeting is 12, M.

☞ The thermometer is by no means an accurate index of the oppressiveness of the weather. Some days are tolerable at 93, some intolerable at ten degrees lower. The difference is due to the relative humidity in the atmosphere. Let no man who is oppressed with heat at 85 degrees, suppose that he must necessarily give up the ghost if the mercury rises to 95 or even 100.

Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Liberty.

Let the people in every county in the State assemble in primary meetings, to consult in regard to the election, which they are entitled to hold this fall under the constitution of Georgia and the act of Congress of July 15th, 1870, and to send delegates to the conventions to be held in Atlanta on the 16th and 17th of August next. Let there be wisdom in council, firmness and discretion in action.

Sunstroke.

The mortality from sunstroke has been unprecedented in New York for some time past. Thirty-five deaths occurred in a single day. Deaths traceable to heat only represent a fractional part of the injury to health and life which the hot weather has occasioned. If the heated term continues much longer, it must breed a serious epidemic of some kind.

Extending across the continent, the heated zone seems to be about eight hundred miles in width.

Senator Merrell and the Family.

Here we subjoin something that is enough to make the blood tingle in the veins of a cast-iron man.

Here it is; read it, ye live men in Georgia, all ye who are not willing to take the highway, and who really believe that a man should get his bread by the sweat of his brow:

ATLANTA, GA., July 28, 1870.

I certify that J. C. C. Carlton is clerk of the committee on the judiciary of the Senate, and that his services were required and actually performed, beginning on the 11th instant, and is therefore entitled to the same per diem pay as a member.

(Signed) W. W. MERRELL,
Chairman.

July the 28th, 1870, two hundred dollars were paid by the Treasurer and receipted for by Carlton. Now, for the points, reader. First. The Parliamentary usage, we believe, has uniformly been to appoint these clerks of committees by election in committee. If this rule is varied we believe it is only a concession of courtesy on the part of the committee, allowing the chairman to make the appointment. But, we believe, the rule is as we state it. Now, we are informed that no appointment has ever been made, and we know of two deserving young friends, who are candidates for this clerkship, that will be astonished when they receive this number of THE CONSTITUTION. But worse, far worse than this. We are informed that this committee has never yet been convoked, never met, never performed as a committee on an act, and consequently could never have called Mr. Carlton's services into requisition. We do so believe, that Mr. Carlton has never performed one hour's service for this two hundred dollars, which his father-in-law has certified for and abetted his abstracting from our much abused Treasury. How long, O Lord, how long? Will never again shame come back to the hearts of our people and public opinion have the weight of a feather? Comment is useless. Words fail us, and we cry in our desperation at the intolerable nuisance of Radicalism, "Who shall deliver us from the body of this death!"

Radical Trickery.

The silly attempt now being made by the Republican party to utilize the sympathy of the German population with their Fatherland in the present war between Prussia and France, is as ridiculous as it is impracticable. The Germans see through it and despise it. The attempt thus to utilize them for party purposes, is made upon the presumption of their ignorance of the international policy of their adopted country.

From the foundation of our government, the policy of the United States, in regard to their alliances with foreign nations, has been well defined and rigidly adhered to. "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none" have wrought the present independence of this country of court intrigues, saved it from being injuriously affected by revolutionary convulsions in other countries, and preserved in a great measure the republican simplicity of our diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations.

To this policy was chiefly due the respect with which the United States, (when they were ranked as a weak power among the nations,) were always treated by the crowned heads of Europe.

So deeply have the people, whether natives or of foreign birth, become wedded to this policy, that should any administration entangle the Federal Government in alliance with foreign nations, or improperly meddle in their affairs, either in peace or war, it would at once provoke an outburst of popular indignation.

Americans are a free people, out-spoken whenever and wherever their feelings are enlisted. No right-minded man objects to outbursts of popular sympathy, even when that sympathy is in opposition to his own predilections, preferences, or prejudices. Especially is this the case when our foreign-born population give indications of interest in the struggles of those they left behind in the land of their nativity. The utterances of the most zealous and indiscreet Fenian, the most enthusiastic Frenchman, or the most earnest German, in regard to movements of their former countrymen, or the overthrow of those they may deem their oppressers, are always listened to with a feeling rather of pleasure than of impatience.

Such utterances are the evidences of the priceless privileges which we as Americans enjoy. The masses of the people, whether native or foreign born, do not intend to permit their liberties to be jeopardized by entangling alliances of the Federal Government with foreign nations. Nor do they intend that political tricksters shall trade upon their sympathies. So, those of the Radical party that are now bidding for the German vote by lauding Bismarck's policy and hypocritically denouncing Napoleon, would do well to cease their efforts to make large drafts upon German credulity, which has no existence save in the imagination of political tricksters.

How is this, Northern Democrats?

An act of Congress of July 15th, 1870, admitting Georgia for the second time into the Union, contains the following language. We quote its very words:

"That neither this, nor any other act of Congress shall be so construed as to deny to the people of Georgia their right to hold an election according to the constitution thereof; nor to affect the term of any officer appointed, nor any member of the Legislature elected under said constitution."

In the face of the above, the Senate of Georgia, on yesterday, passed the following resolutions by a vote of 21 to 14.

WHEREAS, The constitutional term of the several officers of the State, including that of this General Assembly, are necessarily dependent upon the time when under the several acts of Congress the constitution goes into operation, as the paramount law, freed from military influences; and

Whereas, The acts of Congress of July 15th, 1870, does not fix said time and the same cannot now be definitely settled until Congress shall decide by the actual admission of our Senators and Representatives; and

Whereas, It is unwise further to complicate affairs by the election of new officers while the period when the State Government as such under the constitution begins its existence is uncertain;

Therefore resolved, That the General Assembly so shape legislation as that no election shall be held for the various officers provided for by the constitution, until Congress, by the admission of our Senators and Representatives, or in some other way, shall definitely determine whether the constitution of this State is held to go into operation as the paramount law in 1868 or in 1870.

The constitution of Georgia explicitly provides for an election of members of the lower House of the General Assembly and of Senators from those districts having odd numbers on Tuesday after the first Monday (it being the 8th) of November, 1870. Leading Republican journals in the North, in the last few days, have been publishing arguments against the claim set up by Radicals in the Georgia Legislature to prolong their term of service and thus prevent an election this fall.

The journals referred to complacently inform us that there will be an election in Georgia at the time referred to; that the opposition to it has well-nigh ceased; this too in the face of the fact that Governor Bullock and his faction are working like beavers to induce the Radical majority in the Legislature to prolong their term of service, and have, as above stated, succeeded in inducing the Radical majority in the Senate to render themselves infamous by passing the resolutions above quoted. What does it mean? Are they throwing dust in the eyes of the masses up North to prevent them from taking cognizance of the iniquity that the Bullock-Blodgett faction are perpetrating in Georgia?

Orangemen and Ribbon Men.

On the 12th instant, there occurred a serious riot in New York, which grew out of a celebration by Orangemen of the battle of the Boyne. Several lives were lost and many Irishmen were engaged on both sides. In commenting on this deplorable occurrence, we called attention to the woeful effects of the unwise policy adopted by the conqueror towards the vanquished, in confiscating the lands of the followers of James and partitioning them among the Dutch and English followers of William. Allusion was made in terms not to be misunderstood, if carefully read, to the bad taste, not to say folly, after a lapse of one hundred and eighty years, of taunting by processions in the streets, or other public exhibitions, the descendants of the defeated party. We had nothing to say about the religious controversy which was so much mingled with the politics of Europe at the period of the revolution which cost James his crown and gained for William of Orange the throne of Great Britain.

We are living at a period now too far advanced, in the nineteenth century, to be disposed, even if prejudice inclined us in that direction, to seek to justify the wrongs inflicted upon Ireland on religious grounds. For, however angry the controversy between Roman Catholicism and Protestantism may have been one hundred and eighty years ago, the spirit of the present age, and especially the animus of the people of America, is condemnatory of the mingling of sectarian considerations in questions of State policy. Protestants and Catholics may rejoice or sorrow over the defeat of James at the Boyne, as their convictions or prejudices may determine them. But confiscating the lands of the conquered and placing over tenantry landlords of foreign birth, adventurers whose prejudices, sympathies and habits of thought are antagonistic to those of the masses of the people, is not justifiable on political considerations.

Certainly one hundred and eighty years of British experience in Ireland has demonstrated its folly. Had there been a more generous policy pursued towards Ireland after the battle of Boyne water, there would perhaps been no Ribbonmen ten years from its date, the Orange Societies would never had an existence, the fierce antagonism of the Roman Catholics and Protestants in that unfortunate island would long since have subsided, and the riot in New York would never have occurred.

In many particulars, the policy of Radicalism towards the conquered South resembles that which William of Orange inaugurated one hundred and eighty years ago in Ireland. It has not a tendency (nor was it intended by the Radical party so to operate,) to conciliate or content a generous, proud and chivalrous people by sending among them a horde of adventurers to prey upon their substance and to insult them in their misfortunes. The excuse that Ireland must be oppressed, her peasantry almost literally enslaved to heartless landlords of foreign birth, and her nobility robbed that Protestantism might survive and be perpetuated, is as specious and silly as that which is urged by Radicalism to justify its wild revels in the South since the war, its political debaucheries and usurpations. We still think we were right in the article which called forth the strictures of our correspondent whose communication, under the head of Orangemen, appeared in our evening edition on Friday last, the import of which was not fully considered until we saw it in print.

Owing to the changed state of sentiment of the civilized world, the present and past condition of the Irish people is a subject of study for the statesman. It is a subject that rises above all considerations of ecclesiastical supremacy. The policy of England towards Ireland has wrought results, which, in some sort, will be repeated whenever persistently pursued by the conqueror towards the conquered, it matters not what may be the kind of fanaticism that dictates it.

General Gordon and the Meeting Thursday Night.

In our report yesterday morning, of the Democratic meeting of the night before, General Gordon was mentioned as one of the speakers. This was a mistake. The reporter never attributed the language quoted to General Gordon. He knew that the Mr. Gordon who addressed the meeting was not the General, and not knowing his initials, mentioned him as Colonel Gordon. The printer evidently thought that the reporter had made a mistake in the title; he certainly substituted "General" Gordon in two places where the reporter had written "Colonel" Gordon. We have since learned that the speaker was Mr. Walter S. Gordon, of this city. General Gordon did not speak at all. The reporter left the meeting while General Benning was speaking, and was informed, an hour later, by another reporter, of the language used by Mr. W. S. Gordon.

These are the facts.—New Era, 29th.

We publish the above by request of the editor of the New Era.

SHE IS NOT DEAD.

Thoughts of solace to Dr. and Mrs. O'Keefe, on the death of their "Mamie."

"She is not dead, but sleepeth,"
With flowers on her breast,
In that slumber, sweet, supernal,
Whose waking is eternal
In mansions of the blest

With white hands softly folded,
And sweet lips void of breath;
The blue eyes dimly clouded—
The young form whitely shrouded?
And this they say is Death!

No! she's asleep in Jesus;
The christian cannot die—
It is the birthday of the soul,
Which proudly spring from earths' control
To extacy on high.

"She is not dead but sleepeth;"
The blight of earthly things
Hath only fallen on her path—
Born of love and not of wrath,
To plume her angel wings—

While yet the lustrous dew of youth
Still lingered, bright and sweet;
While life was yet a dream of bliss,
Ere gall had touched the scarlet lip,
Ere thorns had pierced her feet.

And would our selfish love recall
The darling back again
To feel the sorrow we have felt—
To kneel in tears as we have knelt
Through life's abiding pain?

No, she sweetly sleeps in Christ
With flowers on her breast,
And coming years shall reunite
The riven chain with links of light,
In heaven's eternal rest.

DECISIONS
—OF THE—
SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA

Delivered at Atlanta, Friday, July 29.

[REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION, BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.]

William M. Anderson, plaintiff in error, vs. Thomas L. Taylor, defendant in error. Award from Pulaski.

BROWN, C. J.

1. When the arbitrators failed to furnish the party who objects to the award with a copy, as required by section 4183 of the revised Code, but the party appeared at the first term of the Court and filed his objections to the award, and did not show that he was taken by surprise, or lost any right by not having notice of the award, he is not injured by the failure of the arbitrators to furnish the copy, and the award will not, on that ground, be set aside.

2. An award will not be set aside for uncertainty, when it is capable of being made certain.

3. The award in this case is not so outrageous as of itself to constitute conclusive evidence of fraud or corruption. Error in judgment in the arbitrators is not a sufficient ground for setting aside an award. Nor will it be set aside on the ground that it is contrary to evidences, if there is any evidence to sustain it.

4. Arbitrations are favored by the courts, and he who attempts to set aside an award must comply strictly with the requirements of the statute, or he will not be heard.

Judgment affirmed.

Eli Warren, Lanier & Anderson, for plaintiff in error.

A. T. Burke, S. Hall, by Lochrane & Clark, for defendant.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company vs. Catharine A. Patterson. Assumpsit from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

1. The utmost good faith is required in an application for a life insurance, and any misrepresentation of facts affecting the nature or extent of the risk avoids the policy.

2. When one, as the agent of his reputed wife, represented to an insurance company that she was his wife, and effected an insurance upon his own life in her name, as her agent, for her benefit, and the truth of the case was, that the marriage was void by reason of the reputed wife having a former lawful husband living at the time of the second marriage:

Held, That the policy is not void by reason of the illegality of the last marriage, unless it further appears that the said reputed husband and wife knew, at the time the policy was effected, that at the time of their supposed marriage the lawful husband of the wife was living, and the marriage illegal, and failed to inform the company of the fact.

3. When in a life insurance policy there was an exception, that the company was not to be liable in within two years, the assured should die by his own hand:

Held, That if the assured drink to intoxication, and while in this condition, by accident or mistake, take an overdose of laudanum and die therefrom, this is not a dying by his own hand in the sense of those words as used in the policy, even though the mistake or accident be in some sense occasioned by the drunkenness; but if he take the laudanum with intent to destroy his life, though it be but the intent of a drunken man, this is a dying by his own hand.

Judgment reversed.

Jackson, Lawton and Bassenger, for plaintiff in error.

T. E. Loyd, Hartridge and Chisolm, for defendant.

Abel Johnson vs. Yeomans O. Strickland. Contempt from Clinch.

McCAY, J.

When, after a trial on a possessory warrant and a judgment, the court delivered the property to the successful party on his giving the bond and security as required by section 3959 of the Code, and the case was carried afterwards to the Superior Court by certiorari and the judgment reversed, but before the reversal the party receiving the property has sold the same and cannot produce it, it is error in the court to attach him for contempt in failing to obey its order to redeliver the property.

Judgment reversed.

James L. Seward, A. P. Wright, Lochrane & Clark, for plaintiff in error.

No appearance for defendant.

Julia A. Mitchell, et al., plaintiff in error, vs. The Mayor and Council, defendants in error. Arbitration and award from Glynn.

BROWN, C. J.

In an affidavit filed to prevent the award of arbitrators, which has, by order of the court, been entered upon its minutes, from becoming the final judgment of the court in the cause, it is not sufficient to state in general terms that the award is the result of accident, mistake or fraud, or is generally illegal, the affidavit must state such facts of fraud, accident or mistake, or designate such illegality, as that the court may see that the mistake, etc., did, if the statement be true, occur, and that it was material to the issue.

The affidavit must be such as that, if the other party should not deny it, the court can intelligently pronounce that the award was the result of the fraud, accident, mistake or illegality charged, or no issue can be formed upon it, and no judgment of the court rendered setting it aside.

Judgment affirmed.

Warner, J., concurred.

McCay, J., does not dissent from these head notes, but said this judgment was wrong for special reasons.

Law, Lovell & Falligant, Nesbits & Jackson, for plaintiff in error.

Jackson, Lawton & Bassinger, B. F. Harris, for defendant.

Brevities.

The swells of San Francisco adopt high-heeled boots, which are said to far outdo the styles worn by the ladies here.

A Cincinnati orator—we suppose it was in that city—wishing to apostrophise the national bannner, got it: "Forever fleet that standard shoat."

The war is creating a panic at Baden Baden. The hotels had 15,000 guests, but now they are betaking themselves home.

Nearly two millions of Germans have emigrated to this country during the last twenty years.

Stockings are going out of fashion for ladies' street wear in Paris, and barefeet and sandals are to be generally introduced. In such a mode Venus may still need wine, but she will dispense with corn.

A lady tells a New York "society paper" that engagements are very unsatisfactory sort of affairs, for if you are not very polite and attentive the gentleman thinks you do not care for him, and you are afraid to be polite, for fear the engagement might some time be broken off, when you would be sorry to think you had wasted so much sweetness on some other woman's husband.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Revenue to-day one million; for the month twenty-one and a half millions.

A member of Congress from Tennessee, already damaged by cadetship sales, is in trouble about pension frauds.

The steamer California, with 21 guns, sails for the Mediterranean to-night to catch seals in Alaska.

RALEIGH, July 30.—George Williamson, a citizen of Caswell, went to serve a writ of habeas corpus issued by the Chief Justice, in behalf of Hon. John Kerr and other citizens of Caswell, arrested by Kirk. Kirk ordered him to leave or he would have him fired on. Williamson made return to the Chief Justice in accordance with the facts, and the Chief Justice decided that the writs had not been properly served, first, because Williamson was not appointed by the Chief Justice to make such service, and second, being a citizen of Caswell he was insurgent, and, therefore, could not serve writs.

The Chief Justice re-affirms the opinion that the habeas corpus was not suspended, and ordered the Marshal of the Supreme Court to go to Caswell and serve the writs.

There is not, nor has there been any disturbance or resistance of the law in any portion of the State.

A telegram from Hillsboro, just received, says Kirk's men arrested thirty citizens of Alamance, to-day.

They hung Wm. Patton, a respectable citizen, three times, cutting him down each time to make him confess who murdered the negro outlaw. The last time it was an hour before he recovered enough to make a confession.

STAUNTON, July 30.—A monster barbecue and meeting was held here to-day, at the fair grounds, in furtherance of subscribing three hundred thousand dollars towards constructing the Valley Railroad. Fully four thousand persons were present, one-third ladies. Speeches were made by Governor Letcher, Colonel M. Harman, Major William Southerlin, Judges Sheffy and Hunter, General Echols, Honorable John T. Harris, Major Dorman and others. Letters were read from General Jubal A. Early, Commodore Maury, John W. Garratt, and General Robert E. Lee, favoring the work. The second letter from General Lee, consenting to become president of said road, was received with great enthusiasm.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, July 30.—The brig Vera Cruz has been lost off the mouth of Ellie, in consequence of the removal of beacons.

Bullion irregular.

PARIS, July 30.—Ollivier had an interview yesterday with the principal editors of Paris, during which he explained the position of the government on several questions, relative to Prussia. He gave some explanation of the secret treaty project, that Count Benedetti had previously given, relative to the measures taken by the Cabinet some time ago, and to affect a general disarmament. He said these efforts were merely intermedary to those of Earl Clarendon for a like purpose.

Count Von Bismarck replied to Earl Clarendon that King William refused, absolutely to disarm.

Ollivier said he gave the honor of his name and that of his colleagues, that no offer was made to Prussia other than that made by Earl Clarendon on the Rome question.

Ollivier said it seemed equitable and useful to the French government to evacuate Rome; equitable, because Italy kept her promises, and useful because keeping her promises unites us more closely to Italy and Austria.

The Journal Officiel denies the invasion of Luxemburg.

The French Senator, Gregar, an owner of large factories near Saarbrucks, has been expelled from Prussia.

Bonville has left Rome on furlough, and it is believed that troops now in Rome will be in Paris by the tenth of August.

The French journals assert that the Prussians have 300,000 troops at Treves, 100,000 in Black Forrest, 200,000 near Mayence, 100,000 in Schliswig, and 80,000 near Berlin. The country between Treves and Mayence is well filled with soldiers.

VIENNA, July 30.—Austria will establish a line of steamers from Triest to Southampton, to connect with the American lines.

WINDSOR, C. W., July 30.—General O'Neill was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and $10 fine; Captain John Brown to nine months' imprisonment and $5 fine; Captain Monagan to six months' imprisonment and $1 fine.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

PARIS, July 30.—The Journal Officiel, this morning, published Benedetti's explanation of the secret treaty affair. It is well known that Count Von Bismarck made France an offer, both before and after the war with Austria. The substance of this offer was that France should take Belgium as compensation for the aggrandizement of Prussia. The Emperor in all cases declined the proposition. The very moment the treaty of Prague was concluded, Bismarck has again betrayed his desire to restore equilibrium, and make proposals to combinations affecting the integrity of the States bordering on France.

During one of these conversations, Count Von Bismarck dictated to Count Benedetti his secret treaty project which has just been made public, and which Count Von Bismarck has kept ever since. This accounts for the handwriting. Benedetti gave notice of the contents of the proposed treaty to the Emperor's government at Tenie, but the proposition was promptly rejected. Benedetti adds that the King of Prussia was not favorable to Count Von Bismarck's plans.

To-day, the Emperor assumed commandership-in-chief of the army.

He was at work to-day with General Lebouef, arranging the necessary details.

The Prince Imperial visited camps to-day, and received great enthusiasm.

The health of the army is perfect.

There has been no serious engagement yet.

Rumors to the contrary are false.

It is reported on the best authority that the mission to Vienna was a complete success.

Austria will not take umbrage at the presence of the Italians in Rome, and will remain in accord with Italy.

MADRID, July 30.—The departure from Madrid of the Duke Montpensier is contradicted.

A committee of republican deputies in Cortes yesterday, decided to support the demand for a prompt reunion of the Cortes, and to definitely establish a constitution.

Rumors that ministerial changes are contemplated are contradicted.

The permanent committee of Cortes, appointed before the adjournment of last session, will meet to-morrow to fix the time for the meeting of next session.

LONDON July 30.—It is now thought that the Prussian army proposes to cross the Rhine from Baden, into France, near Haningu, two miles below Bale.

Much activity in German military circles to-day.

The French press, regardless of politics, praise the Emperor's address to the people.

Prices of breadstuffs and other articles in Paris, are nearly the same now as on the eve of the Austria and Prussian war.

ROME, July 30.—General Kanzeler, of the war department, proposes a fortification of the city.

The Pope's Chaplain has gone to Paris to receive the condalian defenders of the Pope.

Wesley Chapel.—Morning service at ten and two o'clock, by Rev. W. P. Harrison, D. D.

Rev. Wm. H. Strickland, of Stone Mountain, will preach in James' Chapel at 4 o'clock this evening.

Rev. N. M. Crawford, D.D., will preach in the First Baptist Church at 10½ o'clock, A. M., and Rev. H. C. Hornady at 8, A. M.

Divine service will be had in the lecture room of the Second Baptist Church this morning at the usual hour. We learn that the accommodations are ample and comfortable.

What member of the Investigating Committee on the Western and Atlantic Railroad made $1,500 on Friday by settling a case against the road? Was the money paid before or after the "prolongation" vote?

It was currently reported on the streets yesterday that A. L. Harris, Master of Transportation on the State Road, had been removed, but we could not trace the rumor to any reliable source.

Services will be held this morning in Third Baptist Church by Rev. H. C. Hornady. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at 4½ P. M., near the church, by the pastor, H. F. Buchanan.

Punchinello is the best illustrated, humorous, and satirical sheet ever published in this country. It equals the London Punch in pungency and pith, and it contains nothing vulgar or out of place. Copies can be had at Phillips & Crews.

We had the pleasure of a visit, yesterday, from the live, genial and indefatigable general agent of the Macon and Brunswick and Atlantic and Gulf Roads in New York, C. D. Owens, Esq. We are pleased to learn from him of the general growing prosperity of the roads he represents.

Early Cotton.—We have been shown two well formed bolls of cotton grown on the plantation of Col. Evans, of Thomas county, and one that opened on the 23d inst. The variety is that known as Holmes, Early Prolific California Cotton.

We are informed by Frank T. Ryan, the courteous and energetic tax receiver and collector of this city, that John H James, Esq., banker and broker, pays more tax on real estate in Atlanta than any other citizen or resident, and that next to him are Colonel Richard Peters and Colonel L. P. Grant.

Policeman Thomas Costello, arrested yesterday evening, John Lemon, (15th amendment), implicated in the robbery of Low & Bro., on Friday night. John, it seems, had invested in pistols, jewelry, etc., to some extent; $37,50 in gold, silver, and greenbacks, were found on his person. Warren Peat, the colored drayman, was arrested in the morning. The Lemon ought to get squeezed, and the drayman learned not to re-peat such another high, low, jack and the game again. They are evidently "Prolongationis's" of the straightest sect.

Two men from North Carolina, trading on tobacco, were arrested on Friday, for an alleged violation of the Internal Revenue Laws, in having stamps or brands on the head of tobacco boxes, and not destroying the same after using or selling the tobacco. They were brought before United States Commissioner W. B. Smith, for a hearing. One named Hayes was bound over on Friday, and one named Sisk, yesterday, in nominal bonds, to answer the charge. The government was ably and efficiently represented by the United States District Attorney, J. D. Pope, and the defendants by Judge O. A. Lochrane and Major George Hillyer.

More "Grease."—We learn from Mr. Caldwell, former watchman at the State Depot at Atlanta, that not long since, when Platt Madison, member of the House, was lying around the depot begging for "grease," and sleeping under tarpaulins, which were used to cover corn, flour, and other freights on the platform, that he (Mr. Madison) told Mr. Caldwell that a short time before that Governor Bullock ordered him to go down to the State Road shop and select eight or ten thousand feet of State Road lumber, and have it hauled up and delivered to Mr. Pond, with which the latter gentleman was to build him a stable, carriage house, etc. All of which was done, and the stable and carriage house now stands on Broad street, near the bridge. Madison further stated to Caldwell that the aforesaid lumber and building material for the stable and carriage house have never been paid for by the said Pond or Bullock.

The Georgia State Dental Society met in this city on the 28th and adjourned yesterday. All the delegates express themselves pleased with the result of their labors, and we are pleased to learn that they were well pleased with Atlanta. They have taken such action as will, it is to be hoped, secure State protection. We will, at the proper time, show that it is absolutely necessary to have laws to regulate the practice of dentistry as well as the practice of medicine.

The society wish to extend a vote of thanks to the different railroads for favors received; to the Mayor and Council for the use of the City Hall; to O. L. Pease for the finest dinner ever given in Atlanta, and to Mr. Patrick Fitzgibbons for courtesies received.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Dr. F. Y. Clark, Savannah.
1st Vice President—Dr. H. A. Lawrence, Athens.
2d Vice President—E. M. Allen, Marietta.
Corresponding Secretary—J. P. H. Brown, Augusta.
Recording Secretary—A. C. Ford, Atlanta.
Treasurer—T. Jones, Sparta.
Executive Committee—Drs. Burr, Parsons, Allen, Lawrence and Jones.

The LaGrange High School is located in LaGrange, Troup county, Georgia, on the Atlanta and West Point Railroad. It was incorporated in 1838, and is the oldest school of its grade in Western Georgia, having entered upon its thirty-third Annual Session. The school is in a healthy region of country, and in the midst of an intelligent and refined population. The character of its inhabitants for refinement, morality and intelligence, commends it, in an eminent degree, to parents and guardians, as a suitable place to put those under their charge. Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopalian churches have Sabbath schools and regular service here which the students attend. There are, also, two of the best Female Colleges in the South located here, which makes it specially desirable to young men who may have sisters going to school. The High School has been leased by the Principal for a term of years, the first of which has just expired, and he would be ungrateful not to acknowledge the warm and generous patronage he has received. During the past year he has enrolled 103 pupils. He will endeavor to deserve success by sparing no effort to advance the best interests of each pupil committed to his care.

Indigent sons of deceased Confederate soldiers received free of charge.

The Faculty consists of Robert E. Park, A. M., Principal; Orville A. Bull, A. B., and Edward D. Elmer.

The fall term commences on the 29th of August.

Now is the Time.—Now is the time to subscribe for the Daily Constitution. The world is aflame with news and grand events. Every day is an age of history, and it is the peculiar characteristic of this day that we can lay before the reader the world's news of the day before at an expense of a little more than three cents. Send $2 50 and get the Constitution daily for three months. He who denies himself so great a luxury to save so small a price robs himself gratis.

The readers of this paper have every morning spread before them the events of the day all over the world.

Not only will the columns of The Constitution convey intelligence from London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, St. Petersburg, which will post its readers every day with the progress of the grand events which will give a new political shape to Europe, and affect the destinies of mankind for ages to come, but also give full particulars of the [illegible] by the Radical party [illegible] Georgia and the [illegible]. The plans, purposes and acts of the conspirators against the public peace will be exposed as they develop themselves. The campaign is opened. Send in your names at once, for yourselves. If your neighbor is unable to take it, subscribe for him. Send in the names at once. Daily, three months, $2 50.

When the blood becomes impoverished by improper digestion, or there is not sufficient food taken into the stomach to meet the requirements of the system, the skin becomes pallid, the lips and tongue turn almost white, and the face assumes a waxlike appearance. This is a sure sign that the stream of life needs enriching, that the blood is impoverished. How is this poverty of the blood, of which emaciation, debility and nervous relaxation are the ordinary symptoms, to be remedied? The only way would be to invigorate the stomach with Lippman's Great German Bitters, and it will reinforce the blood with nutritious particles. july2-deod1wawlt.

The attention of the readers is respectfully called to the advertisement of Bradfield & Co., in another column.

These gentlemen have six great and valuable remedies, viz: Bradfield's Female Regulator; Dr. Prophitt's celebrated Liver Medicine; Prophitt's Dysentery Cordial; Prophitt's Pain Kill It; Prophitt's Ague Pills; and Prophitt's Antibillious Pills, all of which are purely vegetable—not a mineral substance in one of them.

They are all preparations for special diseases, and have been used for years; and the testimonials for each article is of the highest character as regards their efficiency and the public need have no fear of being humbugged by them.

Bradfield's Female Regulator and Prophitt's celebrated Liver Midicine has undoubtedly been of more benefit to suffering humanity than any other two remedies of their age, and are justly more popular. july20-dtf

Be on Your Guard.—The unexampled success which for twenty years has accompanied the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters provokes the envy of ignorant nostrum-mongers in all parts of the country, and the counterfeiting business having been measureably played out in consequence of the numerous suits instituted against the offenders, a new system of tactics has been adopted. In the South and West especially, a legion of "Bitters," prepared from worthless materials and bearing a variety of names, have been got up by irresponsible adventurers with the hope of substituting them to some extent for the Standard Tonic of the Age. In some cases country druggists are the concoctors and proprietors of these unscientific and trashy compounds, which are warmly recommended by the vendors, who endeavor to palm them off upon the credulous in lieu of the great specific which has never yet had a successful competitor either among proprietory preparations or the medicines prescribed in private practice. This notice is intended to put the public on their guard against persuasions of parties engaged in the attempt to substitute mere rubbish for the most efficient stomachic and alterative at present known. At this season of the year when debility and complaints arising from a lack of vital energy so generally prevail, it is of the greatest consequence that no tricks should be played with depressed and enfeebled systems. Ask, therefore, for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great vegetable invigorant and alterative, and reject, with deserved contempt, the worse than useless medleys offered in its place. It is as important to the public as to the proprietors of the famous restorative, that this advice should be heeded. july26-deod1wawlt.

An Interview between a Doctor and his Patient.—Three months ago Mr. James Henry Redding, of 509 Grove street, New York, was, as he supposed, not far from death's door. His physician—considered a skilful one—had given him up, pronouncing his complaint atrophy. He was fearfully wasted and debilitated, had a constant pain in his right side, ate scarcely enough to keep a baby alive, and was much depressed in spirits. At this juncture, a clerk in the establishment where he had been employed, persuaded him to try a course of Plantation Bitters. Last week he returned to business, his health being quite restored.

The other day on his way home, he met the physician who attended him, when the following conversation occurred: "What!" said the doctor; "is this you?"

"Even so," replied Mr. Redding, quietly; "you're not sorry to find yourself a false prophet I hope?" "No, no; certainly not. But its a miracle. How was it, my dear fellow? how was it?" Mr. R. told him the story of his recovery, (ascribing it wholly to the Bitters,) and is willing to confirm it verbally or by letter whenever applied to.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

—or—

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

Villanow, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1869.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D

Bull's Sarsaparilla.

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

Benton Barrack's, Mo., April 30, 1866.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1866 by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

Dr. Bull—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhoea and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever scores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible but I believe he will recover.

Respectfully JE JOHNSON

BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS

AUTHENTIC DOCUMENTS.

ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.

Testimony of Medical Men

Stoney Point, White Co., Ark., May 23, 1868.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely.

The Atlantic and Gulf

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER

LINE!

Starting from Savannah, connects at Jesup with the Macon and Brunswick Railroad, at Macon with the Macon and Western Railroad, and at Atlanta with the various Roads diverging from this city, forming an unbroken line from the seaboard to all points in Middle and Upper Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee.

☞ EXPRESS FREIGHT TRAINS RUN THROUGH DAILY FROM SAVANNAH. ☜

NO BREAKAGE OF BULK.

Through rates given and Bills of Lading signed from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Savannah, at the very lowest published rates. If Quick Time, Low Rates, and Prompt Settlements for loss or damage occurring on the line, constitute a claim to your patronage, then address your correspondence to [illegible] Atlantic and Gulf Railroad Agent, Savannah, Ga.

Call on Mr. H. P. Clark, Agent of the Macon and Western Railroad, for the latest published Tariff of Rates and Classification of Freights, to Atlanta.

The General Agent earnestly invites all Atlanta friends, who may visit New York, to call at the office of the Line—they will find a desk at their service and Atlanta papers on file.

Important Sale.

By agreement of all the parties interested, I will sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder, at the Court-house door, in the city of Atlanta, on the 18th day of October, 1870, commencing at 11 o'clock, A. M., the following

VALUABLE PROPERTY

Belonging to the late firm of King, Hardee & Co., to-wit; Lots of land Nos. 2, 9, 231 and 273 containing 40 acres each, a fraction of about five acres of lot No 231, and a fraction of about twelve acres east of 274.

This property lies on each side of Willio creek, in Cobb county, 1½ miles from the Chattahoochee river, and has on it a constant and reliable water power, equal to 100-horse power. There is a dam across the creek about 100 feet long, with 18 feet fall. About 25 feet of the dam was washed away by a freshet, but the remainder is in good order, with strong rock abutments. There are also on the premises some fine river bottom land, a

SAW MILL BUILDING,

With circular saw machinery complete, and in good running order. The Mill building is two-stories high, and there is plenty of good timber within two miles of the Mill. There is, also, on the place, a two-story Mill building, 65 feet long by 28 feet wide, with one line of shafting in the same, one

Wool Roll Card and Bur Machine,

One wool picker, one wool waste duster, one card grinder, one

LARGE TWO-STORY DWELLING HOUSE,

With fine yards and orchards attached, one dwelling house with two rooms, one stable with harness and fodder loft, and one

BLACKSMITH'S SHOP.

This property is 9 miles from Marietta, 2½ miles from Roswell, and 2½ miles from the Chattahoochee bridge, where the terminus of the branch road from the Air-Line Railroad is located.

This property is sold for division, and is a fine field for investment.

B.A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

Why is it that so many children die under the age of five years? That a large proportion of children die under that age, has long been a subject of remark, and without a satisfactory cause ascertained, it is certain.

Also, it is known that worms exist in the human system from its earliest infancy; therefore parents, especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, can not be too observing of the first symptoms of worms; for so surely as they exist, can they be safely and certainly removed from the most Delicate Infant, by the timely use of

B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

It is perfectly harmless, contains no Mercury, being a purely Vegetable Composition, and may be administered with the utmost safety to children of all ages.

Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily.

CAUTION.

Should occasion require you to purchase B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, be particularly careful too see that the initials are B. A. This is the article that has been so

Favorably Known Since 1829,

And purchasers must insist on having it, if they do not wish to have an imitation forced upon them.

ONE AND FIFTY IN THE SHADE— A DREAM OF ICE.

BY HOTTENTOT.

For the Courier-Journal.]

Oh for a home in some vast wilderness,
Some boundless contiguity of shade,
Where I might sit in primitive undress
On blocks of ice, and drink iced-lemonade!
Oh for some cold nor'western breeze to clot
My blood, swift-coursing in one streaming mass;
It's hot—it's hot—it's hot—it's hottentot!
And I'm caloric—comatose—carbonic-acid gas!

I sweat and cry would that I were ice wet!
I strain my lungs praying for cold iced rain!
(Would I were writing now with pure iced ink!)
I stretch my eyes looking for some iced-wretch!
I start and smile at vision of ice tart!
In desert dreams I spy a large ice pie!
I swear that all I sigh for is ice ware!
I scream in agony for ice cream!
I spend the night wishing that I were ice penned,
Like Franklin was. Ice pit—ice tank!
I sport in dreams of some far-off ice port!
(I swooned just as I spun my last ice pun.

KOSKOO!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE!

And the Large Numbers of Testimonials

which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons who have BEEN CURED by its use, is CONCLUSIVE PROOF of its REMARKABLE VALUE.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER,

IT HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY

The Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative Yet Discovered.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues loose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, bread, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are effected with scrofula in some form.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO,

AS A

Liver Invigorator!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

Being the only KNOWN Medicine

that EFFICIENTLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, WITHOUT DEBILITATING the system. While it acts freely upon the Liver instead of copious purging, it gradually changes the discharges to a perfectly natural state.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dulness and drowsiness, sometimes, headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the side, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, etc.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of Wonderful Efficacy in the cure of diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder. In these Affections it is as near a specific as any remedy can be. It does its work kindly, silently, and surely. The Relief which it affords is both certain and perceptible.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys can not estimate the importance of their healing action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the Urine being imperfectly secreted in the Kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

Meets with GREAT SUCCESS in the CURE o

DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM,

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work (mental and physical), are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful rate.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows:

A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical Headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in Answering Questions; Dullness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, etc., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, etc., etc.

KOSKOO

Is NOT a secret quack remedy. FORMULA around each bottle. Recommended by the best Physicians, eminent Divines, Editors, Druggists, Merchants, etc.

ROSADALIS!

THE Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

SWEET QUININE

IS A RECENT IMPROVEMENT.

Replaces the use of the Bitter Sulphate Quinine, with which all are familiar.

Dose for dose, it is

WARRANTED

Fully Equal in Every Way to Bitter Quinine,

And like it, is the one

Great, Positive, and Unfailing

CURE

FOR ALL DISEASES OF MALARIOUS ORIGIN.

Fever and Ague,
Intermittent Fever,
Chill Fever,
Remittent Fever,
Bilious Fever,
Dumb Ague.

And the long train of disorders following these when neglected.

SWEET QUININE

is made solely from PERUVIAN BARK (so is Bitter Quinine), therefore is of Vegetable origin, and not a Mineral Poison, but on the contrary is proved to be one of the best promoters of the blood of all healthy persons.

SWEET QUININE

acts as an antidote to, as well as a cure for malarial or miasmatic poison, the absorption of which by the lungs causes Intermittent Fevers, etc. The only advantage claimed for over the use of old Bitter Quinine is the entire absence of that intense, persistent bitterness, which in the latter is an insurmountable obstacle to its use with most persons, and always with children.

SWEET QUININE

is in two forms—in Powder, for the use of Physicians and Druggists, and Fluid, for use in the family and for the general public.
